Spend time talking to your children in everyday settings such as shopping or on a walk. The more words your child hears the broader their vocabulary becomes.